

Sunday between 30 October and 5 November (Proper 31)

Psalm 119:137-144

♩ = 92

Grant me un-der-stand-ing, that I may live.

D.C.

You are righteous, O · Lord,
and upright are your · judgments.
You have issued your de·-crees
with justice and in · perfect faithfulness.

My indignation has con·-sumed me,
because my enemies forget your · words.
Your word has been tested to the · uttermost,
and your servant · holds_it dear.

I am small and of little ac·-count,
yet I do not forget your com·-mandments.
Your justice is an everlasting · justice
and your law · is_the truth.

Trouble and distress have come up·-on me,
yet your commandments are my de·-light.
The righteousness of your decrees is ever·-lasting;
grant me understanding, that · I_may live.