

Sunday between 18 September and 24 September (Proper 25-T)

Psalm 145:1-8

I will exalt you, O God my · King,
and bless your Name for ever and · ever.
Every day will I · bless_you
and praise your Name for ever · and ever.

Great is the Lord and greatly to be · praised;
there is no end to his · greatness.
One generation shall praise your works to an · -other
and shall declare · your power.

I will ponder the glorious splendor of your · majesty
and all your marvelous · works.
They shall speak of the might of your wondrous · acts,
and I will tell of · your greatness.

They shall publish the remembrance of your great · goodness;
they shall sing of your righteous · deeds.
The Lord is gracious and full of com · -passion,
slow to anger and of · great kindness.
